COMMUNITY of ARTISTS

Juror's Statement

It was a privilege to select work for the Community of Artists exhibition. Danforth Art is a unique place where artists gather. Casual visitors departing our galleries will often remark that they “just had the most interesting conversation with an artist” and this happens increasingly throughout the summer when we exhibit work by members. In fact, more than one third of Danforth Art’s membership identifies themselves as artists. Each year, annual juried shows give visitors a clear idea of who we are and what we are doing, proving that a locavore approach works—that sometimes you need to look no further than your own backyard to discover great art produced by neighbors and friends.

From Ellen Rich’s abstract celebration of color and shape to the strangely maniacal rabbits, which hop surreally throughout the show, we discover art that is sometimes quirky, but always heartfelt. Michael Frassinelli’s wry self-portrait is ironic, while Sarah Brent Ode to Pregnancy is a sincere reflection of a life-changing experience. Throughout, there’s evidence of artistic willingness to explore a wide variety of methods and materials in order to realize a personal vision.

Like Off the Wall Juror Jennifer Gross, I extend sincere congratulations to the artists, without whom no shows would exist. Personally, I would like to convey profound thanks to Danforth Art’s Trustees, whose support makes exhibitions possible. Finally, deep appreciation goes to our curatorial staff—Assistant Curator Jessica Roscio and Museum Registrar Kristina Wilson—whose efforts make us all proud.
